PMAM is organizing training and seminar sessions for its members and the public on topics related to ISO 17025 accreditation requirements and related standards at minimal fees. The trainers are selected from professional, academics and senior personnel of Jabatan Standard Malaysia.

The training program for 2020 is as shown. The list is not exhaustive as we may offer other courses upon request by members of PMAM and the public. We also offer in-house on these topics.

PMAM reserve the right to postpone or cancel these schedules mainly due to poor response and availability of trainers.

Please visit our webpage at www.makmal-malaysia.org.my/activities for registration and up-to-date information.

Early registration will help us to maintain the low training fees.
